While Studio Cirigliano's variety of services for our clients has expanded, we have paid great care in retaining the skills of our best employees and professionals, so to never compromise on the customer intimacy and trust. The constant improvement of the spectrum and quality of the services we offer has allowed us to seize the new opportunities on the market and bring innovative answers to our clients' needs.

We have also developed an in-house consultancy practice that, while sharing the same rigorosity and approach of our account practice, it aims to assist the clients in the most challenging legal entity planning, tax optimization & digital accounting processes to reduce the workload on the client side.
